

11:20 07/11/2016		Deferred revascularization tied to poor outcomes in diabetes (HealthDay)—For patients with diabetes mellitus (DM), deferred revascularization is associated with poor medium-term outcomes, according to a study published in the Nov. 1 issue of The American Journal of Cardiol...
11:10 07/11/2016		Thalidomide may cause epidermal necrolysis in multiple myeloma (HealthDay)—In patients with multiple myeloma, thalidomide may cause toxic epidermal necrolysis (TEN), according to a case report published online Nov. 2 in the International Journal of Dermatology....
11:10 07/11/2016		GMOs and cannabis If there's a topic even more politicized than the US presidential election, it's GMOs . (GMOs are genetically modified organisms, the products of genetic engineering, and opposition to them usually centers on GM crop pl...
11:08 07/11/2016		Nephrology Job Opportunities Inch Up for US Graduates However, finding jobs is more challenging for international grads, according to a new report on the nephrology workforce. Those aged 55 and older are satisfied with job and income. Medscape Medical News...
11:04 07/11/2016		Optimised long-term care for persons with dementia Life expectancy is rising – as is the need for professional long-term care. The care services currently being provided barely meet the existing demand. Therefore, the available resources need to be adapted intellig...
11:03 07/11/2016		Adult weight gain could increase cancer risk Substantial weight gain over many years increases the risk of obesity-related cancers in men by 50 per cent and in women by almost 20 per cent, according to new research presented at the National Cancer Research Institut...
11:00 07/11/2016		Experience of spouses explored in pre-heart transplant period (HealthDay)—In a review published online Nov. 2 in the Journal of Clinical Nursing, six themes are identified among spouses of heart transplant recipients, some of which are associated with high levels of stress....
11:00 07/11/2016		Common food additive promotes colon cancer in mice Emulsifiers, which are added to most processed foods to aid texture and extend shelf life, can alter intestinal bacteria in a manner that promotes intestinal inflammation and colorectal cancer, according to a new study....
10:58 07/11/2016		Gut microbes linked to immunotherapy response in melanoma patients Patients with malignant melanoma - whose disease has spread - are more likely to respond to immunotherapy treatment if they had greater diversity in their gut bacteria, according to new research presented at the National...
10:56 07/11/2016		How an army of 'super recognisers' could help spot criminals and missing persons While most of us find it easy to recognise highly familiar faces such as those of family and friends, identifying faces that we have only briefly encountered is much more difficult. In fact, some research suggests that e...
10:54 07/11/2016		Testosterone levels improve in overweight, obese men after 12-week exercise program Twelve weeks of aerobic exercise significantly boosted testosterone levels in overweight and obese men, with the greatest increases seen among vigorous exercisers, according to research presented today at the Integrative...
10:54 07/11/2016		Dad's preconception fitness regimen may increase obesity, insulin resistance risk in offspring Fathers who exercise regularly before their children are conceived may program their offspring's genes with an increased risk for metabolic disorders, according to new research. Alexander Murashov, associate professor of...
10:52 07/11/2016		Exercise during pregnancy may reduce markers of aging in offspring Exercise during pregnancy may be as effective in protecting the next generation from age-related health risks as efforts made during the offspring's own adulthood, new research suggests. Kevin Pearson, associate professo...
10:50 07/11/2016		About half of seniors in ER willing to use tablet computers (HealthDay)—About half of older adults in the emergency department are willing to provide information using a tablet computer, but few can do so without needing assistance, according to a study published online Nov...
10:40 07/11/2016		Depilação definitiva; veja a diferença entre a luz pulsada e o laser A luz intensa pulsada custa menos, porém demanda mais sessões. Já o laser é mais caro, dói mais, mas costuma ser definitivo....
10:40 07/11/2016		Decreased clot retraction rate in asthma (HealthDay)—Clot retraction rate (CRR) and fibrinolysis rate (FR) are reduced in steroid-naive asthma, according to a study published online Oct. 14 in Allergy....
10:30 07/11/2016		Women have worse outcomes during 36 months after ACS (HealthDay)—In a study published in the Nov. 1 issue of The American Journal of Cardiology, among patients with acute coronary syndrome (ACS), women were found to have a higher mortality rate than men during 36 mon...
10:30 07/11/2016		Low-carb diet cuts tx effect of glucagon in hypoglycemia (HealthDay)—For patients with type 1 diabetes, a low-carbohydrate diet (LCD) results in lower incremental rises in plasma glucose (PG) after mild hypoglycemia compared with an isocaloric high-carbohydrate diet (HCD...